

Red Menace Breaks Out In Prussia; Rhine Revolt Gains Some Towns, Loses Others

G.O.P. Heads May Have Rough Sledding

WASHINGTON, October 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Whether the Republicans will be able to organize the house and senate immediately upon the convening of the sixty-ninth congress is a subject of concern to some of their leaders.

The balance between the two dominant parties in both houses is so delicate that a small group of Republican progressives can block the election of both the speaker of the house and the president of the senate.

A majority of the membership is necessary for the organization of each house. The Republicans will not have to exceed 21 members in the house, as 49 members constitute a majority. This three progressive could prevent an election unless the Republican state could draw support from the Democrats, a possibility which is not now receiving serious consideration.

In the house the Republicans will have a majority not to exceed eighteen and so it will be possible for the delegation from a single Republican state, such as Wisconsin, to hold up the organization program. The progress of the house, organized and without, are preparing to take advantage of the situation.

If the senate progressives have any plans with respect to an organization which they have not made them known. Some of the Republican leaders say they anticipate no difficulty in putting through the party slate, but others are less optimistic.

Will Take 24 Hours To Hear Charges

OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA., October 23.—(By the Associated Press)—A full day of sitting patiently listening to a reading of the voluminous transcript of testimony on which twenty-two charges against Governor Clark C. Walton are based, was today's prospect in the lower house of the Oklahoma legislature, with voting on impeachment to follow. It is expected that it will require approximately twenty-four hours to complete the presentation of accusations of incompetency, moral turpitude, wilful neglect of duty, and corruption in office.

It appears likely that a vote would not be reached before tomorrow.

The prediction was made freely that the house would vote overwhelmingly in that manner bringing down the governor, which, first, would pass upon the admissibility of the charges and then upon the impeachment.

Plan New National Party With Ford As Standard Bearer

DETROIT, MICH., October 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Formation of a new national political party with Henry Ford as its standard bearer will be undertaken at a national organization conference of all Ford-for-President Clubs, to be held here December 12, 13 and 14.

The call for the organization conference was decided upon at a meeting last night of several Michigan Ford Clubs. The conference, according to leaders of the movement, probably will name a date and place for holding a nominating convention next spring.

The conference call will go out within a few days, it was stated by William Kronberg, secretary of the Dearborn Ford-for-President Club.

"It was decided upon," he said, "only after insistent demand from Ford Clubs throughout the country."

The Dearborn Club, he said, had been inactive for some time owing to its inability to obtain from Henry Ford any statement as to whether or not he would accept the nomination by a party the clubs might organize.

"We are forced into action," said Mr. Kronberg, "many of the clubs in other states threatening to proceed with a convention call if we did not do so."

Mr. Kronberg estimated the number of Ford Clubs now in existence at between 300 and 400 and added that he was advised the organization conference would attract at least 3,000 delegates and visitors. Sessions of the organization conference, he said, would be held in the auditorium at Dearborn, home of Henry Ford.

Last night's meeting at which about a score of delegates were present, was presided over by Judge Edward Jeffries of the recorder's court of Detroit.

Judge Will Keep Secrets

DENVER, COLO., October 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Summoned to appear before the grand jury with all the books and papers from his office which might throw light on cases of women in his court, Judge Ben B. Jandrey of the juvenile court, will refuse to reveal any confidences given him by women and girls, he announced last night after the subpoena, issued by District Judge Douglas, had been served.

"I have every respect for the purposes of the grand jury in summoning me to testify as to what I know about illegal operations, of which I believe there were perhaps one thousand in Denver last year," said Judge Jandrey. "However, I shall refuse to tell any of the hundreds of confidences that annually come to this office."

Failed To Stop Gambling

COLUMBUS, O., October 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Efforts of Mrs. Rose Taylor and others of Maple Heights, Cleveland suburb, to stop alleged gambling at the race track there by invoking the aid of the courts to compel Mayor Charles C. Holt and Marshal Lewis Seelye, of Maple Heights, and Sheriff Charles B. Stannard, of Cuyahoga county, to enforce the laws against gambling, failed today when the state supreme court refused a writ of mandamus to compel the officers to act.

The court sustained a demurrer to Mrs. Taylor's petition on the ground that it sought to compel the officers to act generally, whereas mandamus can only be used to compel officers to do specific things.

Races were being conducted by the Ohio State Jockey Club at the Maple Heights track when the suit was filed.

Plead Not Guilty

COLUMBUS, O., October 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Three Marietta men and four Steubenville men pleaded not guilty of violation of the national prohibition act when arraigned in federal court here late yesterday. They will appear before a federal jury here some time next week.

The men are: George Haugbran, Dallas M. Francis and Herman J. Wirth, of Marietta, and T. J. Watson, Theodore Niltovet, James Dangerty and Harry Cooper, of Steubenville.

The sentence of Ernest Chalfant, of Marietta, who had pleaded guilty to violating the Volstead law, was deferred.

600 Men Footsore And Hungry Hunt Missing Girl

WALDRON, ARK., October 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Food supplies were sent from here today to the wilds of the Ozark Mountains in search of a missing girl, who is believed to have fallen prey to wolves or succumbed to hunger and exposure.

The child, it is believed, attempted to follow its father into the mountains.

Men from all sections of the country have joined in the search. Food supplies in the scattered farm houses in the region have been depleted and for hours the rescue party has pressed forward, hungry.

Made Up of 28 Trillion Cells Man Run By Chemical Reaction and Electricity

You Are Simply A Mechanism

CHICAGO, October 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Man is simply a mechanism run by electricity and chemical reaction—a machine made up of twenty-eight trillion electric cells, according to Dr. George W. Crile, Cleveland surgeon, here attending the convention of the American College of Surgeons.

Emotions, love, hate, fear are but stimuli loosing currents of electricity through certain paths, he said.

Each cell of the body, 28,000,000,000,000 of them, is a tiny wet battery, with negative and positive poles, according to the surgeon. The brain cells are the most positive cells and the liver most negative. The energy which makes life run home runs, which drives the feet of the business man to work, which works the fingers of the typist, and causes Jack Dempsey to drive his right for a knockout, is stored in a layer surrounding each of the twenty-eight trillion cells, a layer 1,625,000 of an inch thick, Dr. Crile says.

The greater the difference in electrical potential between positive and negative, the greater energy the body possesses. With death the difference of potential vanishes. All is equilibrium. Fatigue makes this difference less. Sleep restores it.

The electrical machine is a

Passengers Are Rescued

PANA, October 23.—(By the Associated Press)—All the passengers and the crew of the United Fruit Company's steamer San Gil, which is ashore off the Nicaraguan coast, are safely on board the same company's steamer Pastores.

The San Gil lies on a reef and not a sand bank, and the salvaging of the vessel is problematical if the heavy seas continue.

Orwig Dies Of Wound

MARION, O., October 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Charles B. Orwig, world war hero, and candidate for state treasurer in 1920, died here today from a self-inflicted gun shot wound in his head. Orwig, who lost a leg in the Argonne battle, drove into the country early yesterday and shot himself, apparently having been suffering from melancholia.

France Behind Rhine Revolt?

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The acid test of sincerity—whether the formation of the Rhineland Republic is the act of the people of that region or the design of the French—will come with the question of recognition.

It was said by officials here today that there are no diplomatic understandings or provisions in the Versailles treaty or in any other pact which require the allied and associated powers to a union in recognizing the new Republic. This means separatist action. Should France extend recognition at once before it is apparent whether the German government can by force keep its territory intact, diplomatists say it is inevitable that France will be charged with having fomented the uprising.

Under the Versailles treaty the signatory powers pledge themselves to respect the territorial integrity of each other. This respect for sovereignty is an age old source of friction. When the Republic of Panama was proclaimed the United States within 72 hours extended recognition, an act which the government of Colombia— from whom Panama separated—claimed was clear evidence of American complicity. The United States finally paid an indemnity of $25,000,000 as a sop to Colombia's feelings. But at the same time the question debated very extensively was whether a hostile act wasn't committed when one nation helped another small country separate from a parent state and then by recognition gave the smaller state moral support. The justification made at the time by the late President Roosevelt was that the end justified the means and that the Panama Canal could not have been built but for the separation.

Paris Denies Encouraging Revolution In Germany

PARIS, October 23.—(By the Associated Press)—There is absolutely no foundation for the assertion made by former Prime Minister Lloyd George, as quoted in messages received from the United States that French money was behind the Rhineland separatist movement, it was said at the French foreign office today.

Mr. Lloyd George himself, it was added, furnished the refutation of his own assertion, when he remarked that one of the consequences of separation would be that France would find it more difficult to collect reparations. That, it was remarked, was one of the reasons why the French were entirely disinterested in the promotion of the venture.

Another reason was that there was little reason to believe the movement general and likely to succeed.

The French government is waiting for it to be determined whether the movement is popular and sincere. Meanwhile the French troops had been directed to do only one thing, and that was to maintain order, when violence occurs, the troops will intervene to restore order whether the trouble is caused by separatists or loyalists.

Agency System Up for Referendum

CLEVELAND, O., October 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Whether the present "dual agency" system, one general agency under the unified control of a national council, or both plans, will go to the 2,000 local associations for a referendum vote, was expected to be decided at the constitutional convention of the Y. M. C. A. here today.

Fred W. Ramsey, of Cleveland, and Judson C. Rosebush, of Appleton, Wis., spokesmen for the two factions which were created yesterday when the convention split over the question, were in conference practically all night in an effort to reach an agreement. They were instructed to report to the convention this morning.

Mr. Ramsey was the spokesman for a group favoring the single agency system. Mr. Rosebush was the spokesman for those who favor the preservation of the central agencies and state organizations. Both plans provide for a national committee to replace the present international committee.

Both plans also provide for a board of review, but under the Ramsey plan it would not have as much power as that given by the Rosebush plan. Ramsey plan provides for a national council of from 300 to 400 representatives, while that of Rosebush would call for a small national legislative body.

CINCINNATI, O., October 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Thomas Jefferson Memorial foundation campaign for $1,000,000 for the purchase and upkeep of Monticello, Jefferson's Virginia home, as a national memorial, will be launched at a luncheon here today, when addresses will be delivered by a number of prominent men, including United States Senator Royal S. Copeland, of New York; Governor E. Lee Trinkle, of Virginia; and Dr. Nathan Knass, of New York.

Cleveland is to be the second stop of the foundation representatives.

General Strike Threatens To Complicate Situation

(By the United Press)

Peril besetting the German republic because of separatists along the Rhine and Bavarian border monarchists, was added the threat of red revolt in the heart of Prussia.

While Matthes as the head of the provisional Rhineland established by Sunday's bloodless coup, was striving to knit together, as yet disjointed fragments of the separatist movement, communists arose in Hamburg and captured three of the city's police stations.

The Rhineland republic has yet to find coherent voice.

There are three distinct groups involved in the break from the Reich.

Possibility that these might fight among themselves while the impetus of the revolt died out as well as that the British in the Cologne area would have repressive influence on the separatists, heightened the government's concern.

The separatist movement was spreading with classic war frequency. The monarchist movement in Bavaria, where Prince Rupprecht of Wittelsbach was elected as King of Bavaria, appeared to be gaining; more contingents of the federal army have deserted the Reich and sworn allegiance to the Bavarian state.

Parties of Reichswehr troops brought in to hold Saxony in the event of communist uprising, clashed today at the important center of Pirna. Early dispatches reported one dead. The trouble was reported in the latest dispatch to be still going on. This was the second clash between troops and civilians since reinforcements commenced pouring in under General Mueler, general dictator for the area.

Torpedo boats arrived in Hamburg from Kiel to protect the harbor from communists, who were storming police stations there today.

The Rhineland republic, which extended in some quarters of the occupied area today but seemed to be receding in the districts first affected, Berlin maintains that the movement has been generally defeated.

The most important new accession of the separatists was Duisburg, in the Ruhr, where, according to a Belgian official message, the republic was proclaimed early today and the public buildings occupied.

Dr. Hans A. Barten, leader of the previous separatist movement, seems to have thrown in his lot with the proponents of the present venture, as his followers are reported to have hoisted the republican colors on the government buildings at Wiesbaden, his home town, where ten persons were wounded in subsequent rioting.

On the other hand Berlin dispatches report the expulsion of the republicans from Aix-la-Chapelle where the present republican movement was in its inception early Sunday.

The former regime is believed to have regained complete mastery there and also at Muenchen-Gladbach, where the separatists had seized control.

Coblenz, which the republicans plan to make their capital was still in the hands of the old officials this morning but the separatists are said to be ready to seize it before the day was over and expected no opposition to the move.

There are conflicting reports regarding the city of Bonn where the republicans were reported to have seized the government offices. The latest Berlin advice, however, declared the separatists had been defeated there. Treves, Mayence and all the cities in the Ruhr are, except Duisburg, apparently in the hands of the regular officials.

Overnight developments in the Bavarian situation were negligible, given him again by Berlin.

Dr. Van Kahr, the Bavarian dictator, and the support Bavarian Reichswehr, has made the Bavarian authorities masters of the situation and left the central government apparently helpless.

It is insisted in Munich, however, that Bavaria is not consuming secession from the federation and that the differences are solely with the present Berlin government.

Meanwhile, the Reichstag or council of the Reich, has been summoned to meet tomorrow to discuss the whole Bavarian situation.

Food disorders are continuing in interior Germany. The most serious development now is at Hamburg where rioters early today stormed several police stations and retained them for several hours, police reinforcements recapturing them. There was plundering of food shops and latest disorders. The turbulence had not been entirely subdued at the latest advice.

Revolt In Greece Nipped In Bud

SEPARATISTS DEFEATED

BERLIN, October 23.—(By the Associated Press)—(3:20 p. m.)—Reports from various points in the Rhineland this afternoon indicate the separatist movement has been defeated, especially at Aix-la-Chapelle, Muenchen-Gladbach and Bonn.

Plan To Tighten Up Lines Of Dry Agents

WASHINGTON, October 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Plans are being laid by the treasury to check supplies of liquor reaching the illicit trade both at the seaboard and at the possible domestic sources. A reinforced coast guard fleet to combat smuggling and a system of close inspection of breweries and distilleries are the proposed means.

Taking up the suggestions of Governor Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, here Monday as to means of "drying up" domestic liquor sources, a statement issued by the prohibition Commissioner Haynes announced that "provision already has been made for international inspections" of breweries and distilleries by enforcement officials. The plan, treasury officials said, will require additional appropriations over those for the current fiscal year, however, and there was no indication of when it might be put into effect.

It was said to be aimed chiefly at what officials described as a rapidly increasing supply of high power beer. The plan for an augmented coast guard force would require additional appropriations by congress of approximately twenty million dollars.

"The pleasure is all yours"

Portsmouth will soon boast of another handsome church and the new house of worship will be built by the congregation of St. Mary's E. Church on the site of its present edifice, Eleventh and Clay streets.

Definite action was taken at a meeting of the official board last night, there not being a dissenting voice. The approximate cost of the building is $80,000.

The church is to be built of brick and stone and will be modern in every detail. It will contain a gymnasium and a Community Hall, with a seating capacity of 600 and this unit will be used while the church proper is being erected. The gymnasium and Community Hall will face Clay street and will be built to conform with the church proper.

The present parsonage facing Clay street will be moved to the side of the present church so it will face Eleventh street. "We have long contemplated this move and will build to Portsmouth and the East End," a member of the official board said Tuesday.

The board at its meeting last night also boosted the salary of the new pastor, Rev. P. A. Cross, from $2,000 to $2,400 and use of the parsonage.

Wind Floods Norfolk

NORFOLK, Va., October 23.—(By the Associated Press)—A heavy northeast gale that has been lashing the Virginia coast for the last forty-eight hours, continued at a fifty-mile clip today causing damage and forcing shipping, not already at sea, to remain in port. The Cape Charles Lightship has been blown from her anchorage and this morning the principal business streets of this city were a foot under water at high tide.

A coast guard cutter has been sent to the rescue of the lightship which was not believed to be in serious danger.

The wind reached its highest velocity last night when a gale showed 50 miles an hour. It forced the tide into the Elizabeth River and into the city. Street car service in the business section was suspended, and many persons traveled to work in automobiles which ran through flooded streets. Others waded through.

SKELETONS OF TITANO THERIIDAE FOUND IN WILDS OF MONGOLIA

VICTORIA, B. C., October 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Frederick K. Morris, of New York, member of the Roy Chapman Andrews party of American scientists, who have obtained proof of the existence of the dinosaur in the wilds of Mongolia, arrived here yesterday from the Far East aboard the Empress of Russia, bringing with him skeletons of titano theriid and other fossilized remains of paramount importance to science.

The titano theriid are said to have been the missing link in the race of great reptilian monsters of prehistoric ages.

The Andrews party found in the rocks near the Altai Mountains perfect skeletons of the archosaurian dinosaurs and a nest of nine eggs; in one egg was an embryonic dinosaur in perfect form. The party found upward of 70 skeletons, complete and fractional, and twenty-five eggs of the prehistoric monsters.

The party found a dinosaur with its collar of plated bones of a size and form that is intermediary to all former discoveries, he stated. It forms the missing link between the known and the unknown reptiles known to the world before. It was asserted by Morris that it was the ancestor of a similar race found on the American continent.

Noting and analyzing the species of the two years in the forest will keep the scientific world busy for one hundred years, stated Morris.

Discover Race of White Indians in Panama

ROCHESTER, N. Y., October 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Discovery of a race of white Indians with flaxen hair, in the almost impenetrable jungles of Eastern Panama, was reported today by Richard C. Marsh, of Breckport, an explorer, just returned from the isthmus. Mr. Marsh is the first white man to advance into that unexplored region of Central America, since Balboa. He brought back with him photographs to substantiate his claims. The story of the discovery is told by the Rochester Journal and the post-Express in a copyrighted article.

"I was in a native village when I noticed three girls passing into the jungle," Mr. Marsh said.

"They had bodies as light as the sun-burned white girl and decidedly light hair—a startling and incongruous sight among these black and rag-clad negroes."

"It was then I was told they belonged to a white race living up the Chiriquique River. The negroes told me these whites all had light brown or yellow hair and were wild and warlike."

"The skin of the girls' faces was tanned but free from that colored pigment so distinguishable in all brown and darker races. The features of the eldest girl were of a high oval face, thin lips, well shaped chin and aquiline nose. They spoke no Spanish."

Blow on Head Turns Back Life's Pages 5 Years

ST. CLOUD, MINN., October 23.—(By the Associated Press)—The blow on the head that knocked Arthur E. Whitney, federal prohibition agent of Minneapolis, under the wheels of a beer truck at New Munich, Minn., Wednesday night, fracturing his skull, also turned the pages of his life back five years, it was revealed here last night.

Whitney was overcrossed twenty-seven months during the war was arrested three times and a victim of epilepsy. His life after the last gas attack was a blank.

After the war he landed in New York and obtained a job as a federal prohibition agent. There he met a young woman known as Mrs. Ann Whitney, who has lived in St. Paul with him for the last two years.

When Whitney, at a local hospital, regained consciousness last night for the first time since the blow, Wednesday, standing beside the bed was Mrs. Anna Whitney, who married him in Graison, N. D., in 1912, and who bore him two sons.

He said he knew nothing of Ann Whitney, nothing of the lady soon to arrive, nothing of the almost complete divorce proceedings between himself and Anna, and nothing of how he was hurt.

Whitney had a faint idea that he had been a government dry agent, however. He asked his wife how the boys were and apparently did not realize the passage of time.

Physicians say Whitney will recover.

The street car had stopped in front of the Y. M. C. Howard claims that he failed to see the street car as there were no lights in the car. Jones was bruised about the hips and legs.

W. O. W. Rally Is Success

The Tri-State rally of Woodmen of the World, held at New Boston Sunday, proved a big success, close to 300 being in attendance from Huntington, Ashland, Ironton, South Portsmouth, and Charleston and Portsmouth. George A. Ditty Camp, New Boston, had charge of the program and entertainment and the members in charge were highly complimented on the manner in which they arranged for the rally.

A parade through New Boston, headed by the New Boston band and Reeves Camp, Huntington, uniformed rank, was the first feature of the day. Following this parade Springfield Camp, South Portsmouth, staged a drill exhibition in Millbrook park, which was followed by a chicken dinner of real proportions. At one o'clock initiation ceremonies were held in George A. Ditty Camp Hall, with members from Iron City Camp, River City Camp, Springfield Camp and Geo. A. Ditty Camp participating. The class was named in honor of Louis Nours of New Boston.

After the initiation ceremonies, addresses were made by State Managers Wm. H. Jones of Ohio, Flowers of Kentucky, Bryant of West Virginia and Steffel of Ohio. Judge Green of Louisville, Ky., was the principal speaker, his address being on "Citizenship."

District Deputy J. C. Hurst of New Boston delivered the welcoming address. W. W. Smith of Huntington spoke to the Woodmen Circle. Other speakers were: Major E. Trautman of Columbus and H. M. Yokum of Columbus.

Twenty-five candidates were in the class, fifteen from New Boston and 10 from South Portsmouth.

The next class will be named in honor of J. H. Long of Iron City Camp, Ironton, and will be initiated in that city on Dec. 10th.

Truck And Touring Car In West Side Crash

A bakery truck owned by Jake Pfau and driven by Jacob Pfau, Jr., was damaged about four o'clock Monday afternoon in a collision at the end of the Galena pike paving. He was returning from McDermott and as he approached the intersection of the Pond Creek road, a touring car driven by George Evans, of Peabees, drove around him and turned up the Pond Creek road. Before Pfau could stop the machines came together and both front wheels were torn off the Pfau truck. A wheel on the Evans car was broken. The truck had to be towed to the city by the Universal Motor Company's wrecker.

Young Pfau now believes his troubles with the truck are over for he has succeeded in losing all four of its wheels. Saturday on Scioto Trail the rear left wheel broke down and Monday morning at New Boston, the right rear wheel came off. In the collision yesterday both front wheels were torn off.

Kline Style Show Big Success

Patrons of the Columbia theater filled every available seat at the evening show Monday to enjoy one of the best programs of the season. First was the style show, or promenade, under the auspices of the Kline store. This feature was in the nature of a style reception and was entirely different from anything of its kind ever attempted in this city. It was a real innovation and Mr. Kline, who is one of Portsmouth's most progressive merchants, deserves much credit for the affair, which was staged under the personal direction of Mrs. Walter Gableman, who, too, deserves praise for the cleverness of the affair and the smoothness with which it was staged.

Norman McGuigan, Messrs. Leo and Edmund Krieger and Fred Klingman. The scenes drift from friendly chats to a real bridge party and an afternoon tea. Interspersed with singing by the Krieger brothers and Norma Link, McGuigan's premier soloist, with Pete Landman at the piano.

The effect was very pleasing to the audience last night, it moved off so smoothly as if they had been rehearsing for weeks, and yet they had only assembled once before the curtain rose at seven. The style reception was very fittingly linked in with one of the best pictures that Manager Lynes of the Columbia has presented in a long time—"Almighty Lak A Rose," a heart story full of action and most wonderfully staged.

The style reception will be presented again tonight at seven and nine.

Miss Mary Carlyle of 1312 Second street was painfully burned about the face and arms Monday, when she attempted to light the gas furnace in her home. Luckily the burns are not deep and she will not be disfigured. She had on a heavy corduroy waist, which prevented her from being seriously burned.

Miss Carlyle had turned on the gas in the furnace and when it did not light she started to look into the furnace to see what the trouble was. When she did this, the gas ignited and a sheet of flame reached her face. There had been a pocket of gas in the furnace, and when it ignited a loud report followed. Miss Carlyle quickly extinguished the flames, but not before her face was blistered and her waist ruined. Dr. A. R. Moore was called and dressed her burns.

Sharp Objections by Forbes to

Statements Made By Hines

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 23 —
Sharp objections by Charles R.
Forbes of Seattle, former director of the Veterans' Bureau, marked the opening day of public hearings before the Senate committee investi-

A Good Thing - DON'T MISS IT.

Send your name and address plainly written, together with five cents (and this stamp) to Chamberlain Medicine Co., Des Moines, Iowa, and receive in return a trial package containing Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, "flu" and whooping cough,
and Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for stomach troubles, indigestion, gassy pains that crowd the heart, biliousness and constipation; Chamberlain's Salve, needed in every family for burns, scalds, wounds, piles, and skin affections; these valued family medicines for only 5 cents. Don't miss it.

gating the operations of the bureau.
Mr. Forbes declared that he had come 3,000 miles and from a sick bed to assist the committee and to defend his integrity, which he said, is under attack, and insisted that he should be given the right to be heard.

"This matter is going all over the country," he said, "and unless I can make my reply it will be assumed that I am sitting here without offering any objection."

Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, chairman of the committee of three senators, told Mr. Forbes that neither he nor any other particular individual is "on trial" and that at the proper time he would be given ample opportunity to "explain, object to or contradict" any statements presented.

Brigadier General Frank T. Hines, retired, present director of the bureau, had testified that Francis B.

Smith had been employed apparently as a consulting architect in connection with the bureau. Col. Hospital project, at a salary of $4,800 a year and that he had performed duty for only a few hours. His service began on August 22, 1922, and was terminated on April 3, 1923, the director said.

Merely Gave Him a Job.

"Who employed Mr. Smith?" inquired a member of the committee.
"I employed him," shouted Mr.
Forbes from his seat. "He was a consulting engineer making $25,000 a year and was consulted on numerous occasions."

Gen. John F. O'Ryan, general counsel for the committee, declared he would be "frank in saying that it was simply a case of giving this man a job."

There was another objection by Mr. Forbes when Gen. O'Ryan began inquiry of Director Hines as to whether it had been a practice when a division officer of the bureau was transferred for him to take "his friends" in his staff with him.

"You will have to shut down on this man," Gen. O'Ryan declared in objecting to Mr. Forbes' interruptions.

Meanwhile, Mr. Forbes was on his feet.

Forbes is Warned.
"All we hear is what Gen. Hines has accomplished in the bureau," he shouted, pounding the table. "I hold that I have accomplished as much as he claims to have accomplished."

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt relief.
Takes but a moment to prepare,
and saves you about $5.

Pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is this: Pine contains several elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.
Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and sugar. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ cups of Pinex in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar.
Either way, you make a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and tastes very pleasant.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex is a highly concentrated con—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pinex is a highly concentrated con-pound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded.
The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

This brought another emphatic warning from Chairman Reed, and Mr. Forbes said he would abide by the chairman's orders.

Director Hines was on the witness stand throughout the day and was questioned about conditions in the bureau by Gen. O'Ryan, who has been making an inquiry into that subject since last March. The director told of conditions as disclosed by a three weeks' survey made by him after he came into office on last March 1, and of steps taken to bring about changes.

Great Abuse Charged.

Among other things, the director testified that there had been "great abuse" in connection with dental work for former service men. There have been charges of fraud in connection with this work, he added, and many of the papers in connection with the cases have been turned over to the Department of Justice for investigation. He declared that 300,000 bills for dental work came in during one month and that at one time the cost for this work amounted to $6,000,000 a year. Now the cost is running around $3,000,000 a year.

He continued, adding that orders have been issued to have the work done in government hospitals unless the railroad fare for the veteran exceeds the cost by a private dentist.

The Chillicothe "Mistake"

Establishment of a vocational training school at Chillicothe, O., was declared by Director Hines to be bad judgment since there were better facilities for the men at Federal Park, Md. He said it was the purpose to close the Chillicothe school, which was the largest of all of the vocational training centers.

Director Hines told the committee that upon personal investigation he had found the discipline in the intern hospitals very bad.

in this city:

Miss G. Henry and Mr. Julius Bromberg, two of Tronton's best known and most popular young people, stole a march on friends Monday when they went to Portsmouth and were quietly married by the Rev. Smith of Trinity church early in the afternoon, later taking the N. & W. train for Columbus, the first leg of a week or ten days' wedding trip. Though the coming marriage of the couple was known to close friends, announcement of the happy union of their courtship will be a general surprise, and it places out for both parties a wide circle of friends who await the opportunity to offer congratulations, and best wishes.

Miss Henry is a daughter of Peter L. Henry, and for past years has been employed in the Henry Jewelry Store on Center street. Charming in company, ever ready to friends and casting sunshine by her presence alone, she has won her way into the hearts of many in Tronton and tri-state social circles. Her husband also enjoys an enviable reputation as one of the city's most promising young business men. A member of the A. J. Bromberg Clothing Company, he possesses ability that promises a golden future and wedded life for he and his bride should be a paradise.

"There were but few attendants
at the wedding. Mr. Bromberg, Miss Henry, Mrs. Earl Murdock and daughter, Ethel Jean, and Miss Bess Sewell, the bride, a very close friend of the latter, left Tronton
Monday morning for Portsmouth.
They were met by J. C. Trigg, and these were the only ones present during the ceremony. After the marriage an excellent dinner was served at the home of Mrs. Mur-dock's sister, Mrs. J. G. Trigg, the newlyweds leaving on N. & W. No.
15 for Columbus. They will return after their honeymoon to reside at Fourth and Vernon streets."

Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Carlyle (Helen Scott) have returned from their wedding trip through the east, and are with the latter's parents, Mr.
and Mrs. Ralph E. Scott of Scioto Trail.

Mrs. Charles L. Hyland has returned to her home in Cincinnati after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Davidson, of Fourth Street.

A SQUARE DEAL FOR ALL PHILIP KNOST

Philip Knost has been a resident of Portsmouth for about thirty years. He is thirty-eight years of age, and is, therefore, at that age of maturity and successful life experience that ought to count for most in any public work one might undertake.

For ten years he was a cutter in the Selby shoe factory, and hence knows the problems of the daily wage earner. Fourteen years ago, he organized and started a retail grocery business on Gallia street, under the firm name of L. W. Knost and Son, being associated with his father in the business. His activity, energy and ability have built up a flourishing trade—well known to many people of the city. He has, therefore, had to know the value of the dollar, and has had to use it to its best advantage.

Would he not, then, be a man safe to trust in the financial management of the schools of Portsmouth as a member of the City Board of Education? Would he not be safe to trust, especially so, since one of the most important duties of a school board member is to get the greatest value out of each dollar spent, consistent with the greatest efficiency in the schools and quality of buildings and equipment needed?

Philip Knost is a prominent member of the United Brethren Church and a member of the official board. He has not aspired to public office and has entered this race only at the repeated request and urgent solicitation of numerous influential persons of the city of Portsmouth WHO ARE INTERESTED ONLY IN THE GOOD OF THE PORTSMOUTH SCHOOLS.

He is not pledged to support any person for Superintendent two years hence, which marks the expiration of the term of the present incumbent, and further, he will not pledge to any one, because the good of the Portsmouth schools can be served best only by independent and uncontrolled action on the part of a board member.

We will maintain the right of action, independent and uncontrolled by any force or forces opposed to the best interests of the schools on all questions upon which he may be called to act as a member of the City Board of Education.

Are you willing to BREAK DOWN THE BARRIERS and put such a man on the City Board of Education?

of Panama from Colombia.

The same diplomatic circumstances confront the world today. According to late cable dispatches, France and Belgium are getting ready to recognize the Rhineland Republic. Embassies from the latter have been in Paris for several weeks in intimate conference with the French authorities. David Lloyd George is quoted today as saying the French are unquestionably behind the new Rhineland Republic.

The French cry they want security and that the Rhineland Republic gives them a buffer state between Germany and France. On that theory they are supporting the new regime. Germany is not yet a member of the League of Nations. France has not permitted the German application for admission to be approved. Thus the famous article ten itself which pledges the Nations to respect each other's territorial integrity cannot be legally invoked but attention can be called to the spirit of that pledge by the Germans in an appeal to world opinion and they will not hesitate to characterize it as a violation of German sovereignty.

Should an investigation ever disclose French complicity in the plans of the Rhineland Republic—and there would be little difficulty proving it according to advices from abroad—Germany would be in a position to appeal to the Permanent Court of International Justice some day for damages. That would be an easy procedure now if Germany had been admitted to the League of Nations.

From what little is said in officialdom here it is plain that the United States government isn't going to leap into premature recognition of the Rhineland Republic and that the United States will wait to see whether a stable government can be organized and whether Great Britain and the other powers who have been entrusted with the administration of the Rhineland through special commissioners will recognize the new Republic.

Should the Berlin government send troops to the Rhineland to suppress the uprising, it would be civil war. Recognition of the Rhineland Republic is friendly, but it doesn't become a hostile act, until troops and munitions are furnished to support the rebellious state. Great Britain recognized the belligerency of the South during the American civil war but went no further. Should the French and Belgians furnish troops and supplies, this would be an act of war against Germany.

There is no doubt that the German situation is daily growing worse from the viewpoint of world stability and the Rhineland complication together with the defection of Saxony and Bavaria may alter the entire European problem as it has been developing since the war. For a disintegrated Germany will not furnish reparations, and without reparations France has said in effect, she would not pay her war debt to the United States. American policy has undergone no change as yet. It is still one of watchful neutrality, with the hope today as in 1914 that the conflagration will not reach American shores.

Rheumatic Neuritis

Says His Prescription Completely Banishes All Rheumatic Pain and Twinges—Is Guaranteed.

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Pains Start to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this country is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of ALLENBATH, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinges of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

ALLENBATH has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiable and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of ALLENBATH, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless ALLENBATH decidedly conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance. Greek Revolt

Gallias and Col. Giras, was published this morning in the opposition newspapers and also scattered over the capital from an airplane.

The military government immediately took measures to quell the revolt, which in government circles is declared to be of no great importance. Some arrests were made during the day and it was reported this afternoon that the rebels had been dispersed. Martial law was declared by Col. Plastiras.

The police confiscated the newspapers which granted the proclamation of the revolt, which it is rumored here is receiving support from abroad.

An encounter occurred today at Chalcis between mutineers and royal troops, but everything is quiet in Athens and at Saloniki.

The generals who are leading the outbreak no longer are on the active list of the army. The revolt had as its object the bringing about of the resignation of the present revolutionary government in order that strict impartiality would be shown the voters at the approaching elections.

It is said the government, following the example set by the mutineers, purposes to shower Athens with a proclamation from airplanes. The proclamation will give the government's side of the controversy.

KIDNEY TROUBLE!

The Kidneys are the Blood Filters—When they Weaken and Stop Up—the System Becomes Overloaded with Uric Acid.

Cincinnati, Ohio—"For about four years I suffered with my kidneys being out of order. I had severe pains thru my back and just across the kidneys and I would become so dizzy at times I would have to lie down until it passed off. I also had inflammation of the bladder and suffered from a burning and smarting. The excretion had a thick sediment and a very offensive odor. I suffered constantly. I tried many kidney medicines without relief until I began taking Dr. Pierce's Anuric (Kidney and Backache) Tablets. They gave me the first relief in four years. Since taking them I have not experienced any more trouble. The backache left me and my kidneys are active and normal. I have no more bladder trouble. The urine has cleared up and I am feeling just fine. I can do my work with ease and comfort, in fact, I feel like a new man. I do not hesitate to recommend Dr. Pierce's Anuric (Kidney and Backache) Tablets to all who suffer with kidney ailments."

Food Riots in Hamburg

BERLIN, October 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Disorders which started in Hamburg this morning, were continuing this afternoon. Popular discontent with food prices caused the trouble, it is stated. Some police stations were stormed and some of the policemen were disarmed, but police reinforcements recaptured the stations. A large number of food shops were plundered.

Police Out Republican

LONDON, October 23.—(By the Associated Press)—A Berlin message to the Central News this afternoon says: "A telegram from Aix-la-Chapelle says the police succeeded this morning in expelling the Republicans from the town and regaining complete mastery of the situation. It is not known if any casualties occurred."

Communists Seize Police Stations

LONDON, October 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Bands of communists made concerted attacks on the police stations of Hamburg today, says Berlin correspondent of the Central News. The communists occupied all except three of the stations which at the time the dispatch was filed (about noon) were still holding out.

Separatist Movement Extending

LONDON, October 23.—(By the Associated Press)—The separatist movement in the Rhineland is extending steadily with almost no bloodshed, says a Berlin dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph.

The green, white and red flag of the separatists now flies over Wiesbaden, Erkelens and Bensberg, while the capture of Bonn is expected momentarily.

Coblenz and Mayence are still in possession of the localists, and the municipal officials continue to function at Aix-la-Chapelle, where quiet prevails.

The correspondents say an attempt to extend the movement to Treves failed.

The French have given the mayor of Mayence a free hand to deal with the separatists.

Belgians Quiet Disorder

BRUSSELS, October 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Belgian cavalry quelled the disorder in Aix-la-Chapelle last evening, according to Nation's correspondent there.

The security police, who had fired upon crowds of pillaging communists, were ordered to cease firing by the troops. Police and cavalry men then joined forces in driving off the communists and the students who had attacked the city hall and tore down the Republican flag.

To Run Into Opposition

DUESSELDORF, October 23.—(By the Associated Press)—The Rhineland separatists so far have encountered no serious opposition, but they will not have such smooth sailing when they strike the cities known to be opposed to them. Elberfeld, for instance, and Barmen, Essen, Dortmund and many others.

Even Coblenz is reported as likely to resist the honor of being the capital of the Rhineland republic. The burgomaster of that city, it is understood, has announced that force only will make him surrender the public offices.

Some localists aver that the opponents of separatism are only waiting until the first wave of Republican ardor has spent itself before organizing a definite counter move. Localist officials in most of the towns hitherto unoccupied, have been in continuous conference since they learned of the coup at Aix-la-Chapelle.

At Duesseldorf all city officials were called out of bed at 3:00 o'clock Monday morning for a conference that lasted without interruption, until noon.

It was reported last night that Minister of the Interior Solman, was in Cologne planning a special separatist movement under the auspices of the Berlin government in order to counteract the effect of the Rhinelanders' activities.

Coblenz The Capital

Of New Republic
COBLENZ, October 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Coblenz awoke today in the expectation that it would be occupied by the Republicans today and it is Joseph Mathies, generally regarded as the "father" of the republic, would arrive with a provisional cabinet to make this city the seat of the new Rhineland government.

The population seemed puzzled and undecided at the honor of having Coblenz proclaimed the capital, and it was expected the impression the people get from today's events will determine their attitude.

The separatists after taking possession of public buildings in Coblenz today, a move which they expected would be unopposed, plan to present a letter from the new government to the Rhineland high commission.

This letter, it is understood, will announce the policy of the republic as being friendly to all countries and will express the republic's willingness to assume the Rhineland's share of reparation obligations.

Occupying Another Town
The Rhineland separatists are reported here to have occupied Bonn at one o'clock this morning. It is uncertain whether they retained possession of the town as the latest information around noon today was that the Republicans had clashed with the police and that the city authorities had finally called upon the French troops to restore order.

The German police were said to be still patrolling the town, but whether under separatist or loyal direction, was not clear.

One of the chief arguments of the separatists for a break with Berlin is that the passive resistance in the Ruhr cost the Rhineland twenty-five billion gold marks, while its share of the total reparations would only have been twenty-six billion, according to their figures.

The separatists also assert that the Rhineland has always paid four-fifths of Prussia's taxes and that since the armistice this money has been squandered by Berlin. Thus much as they have to pay a big proportion of the reparations anyway, they feel they might as well get the credit for it.

Central Government Faces Crisis

A telegram from a German source at Bonn says the French gendarmes are being held in readiness to apprehend whoever first uses violence in any disturbance that may arise from the separatist movement.

It is emphasized in French quarters that the separatists do not use weapons and a French army order has been issued to the effect that the secessionists must not be fired upon. As a result the German police are said to be almost impotent.

Do you take orders from a Coffee Pot?

It must be humiliating for thousands of people to confess that they lack the will-power to stop coffee.

They know from experience that it results in irritated nerves; keeps them awake nights; makes them nervous. Yet they don't seem to be able to say "no."

If you find that coffee harms you, change to the pure cereal beverage, Postum. You'll find it delicious and satisfying. And it is absolutely free from caffeine or any other harmful drug, so you can drink Postum at any meal, and as much as you want.

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer the flavor brought out by boiling fully 20 minutes. The cost of either form is about one-half cent a cup.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly—Go by the papers that the merchants and everyone are rejoicing about the road to Iron-ore being paved and the fine time they are having running back and forth, but I think something ought to be done to keep the Iron-ore hauls from coming down here and making dates with our girls. Every time I ask a certain girl for a date, so she tells me such and such a person will be down from Iron-ore tonight. Just run down here and back every night. I think it is a shame myself. What do you think we ought to do about it? —MILTED BOY.

Dear Miss Wise—What is a good treatment to keep the skin smooth and free from wrinkles? Some who have beautiful skin will tell you they never use soap nor water, but cleanse with cream always. What do you think of that? Will the hot milk you told me some time ago cause hair to grow on the face? It is natural hair, and they say that's what causes hair to grow on the face. Just what is a good, safe method for caring for the skin? —THANKING YOU.

There are skins and skins—some are like leather while others are smooth and white. If you have a good complexion you are very foolish to spoil it with cosmetics. If your skin needs attention, you might try the hot milk and water remedy. This will freshen the skin and help remove the wrinkles. Hot water is also beneficial to the face and should be used night and morning. It opens the pores and removes a great deal of the dirt, thus keeping it firm and less likely to wrinkle. Hot milk and water, half and half, may be used instead, if more agreeable. Soap will not be necessary in this case. A flannel wash cloth should be used, taking a small square, renewing it as often as it grows thick and felt-like. This method of treating the face is declared by some to be a perfect substitute for any and all cosmetics, leaving the skin smooth, rosy and unblemished, and will be found beneficial in all cases. Washing the face nightly in hot suds, made from pure white castile soap, or hot milk, followed by a firm upward (never downward) friction, with a moderately coarse towel, is the recommended course of treatment for the black spots that ruin so many complexions.

Dear Dolly—I am 17 years of age and just crazy about a boy in my neighborhood. Dolly, he looks and looks at me as if he would like to know me. I like him very much. How can I give him a chance to know me and take me out? All my girl friends have dates, and I think I am old enough to have them, too. What do you think about it?

BLUE EYES. You are stretching things a bit when you say that all the other girls have dates, because many girls of your age have never had any attention from young men. It is not your place to make advances to the boy in your neighborhood. If he is interested in you as you think he is, he will find a way to know you better.

Dear Dolly—We are fifteen-year-old country girls and we both have very sweet dispositions. Dolly, we have been going with the best-looking boys in our neighborhood for the past six months. Dolly, they had to work the other Sunday night and we let two other boys take us for a joy-ride up the line. We did not know our steadies would find it out, but they did and now they are peeved at us. Now Dolly please give us some good advice as we want to gain back our sweeties.

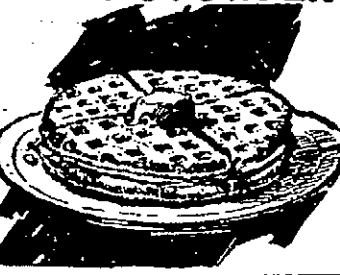

BLUE EYES AND CURLY LOCKS. I am not going to tell you how to gain them back. I'm tickled to pieces that something happened to break up your love affair as you are about four years too young to keep steady company.

VEGETABLE TEA FOR CONSTIPATION

Thousands of families brew it at home and keep well.

Sick headache, nervousness, a swollen skin and drowsiness are nearly always caused by constipation and can easily be cured by the use of Dr. Carter's K. and B. Tea.

Brew it at home the same as you would the regular medicine and drink a cupful just before you go to bed. A 20-cent package will last a long time and any druggist will tell you that he has been selling it for years and that many people swear by it. Drink it for inactive liver and clogged up bowels.

Being purely vegetable and gentle in action, it is fine for children and nearly all of the regular medicine.

I've been thinking things over and want to tell several reasons why you shouldn't put off purchasing your winter coat any longer. In the first place, the weather is cold now and you will have immediate use for your new coat. And how beautiful the new coats seem that make their appearance on the streets during the first spell of cold weather. I don't know why it is, but coats look prettier during October and November than any other months. Maybe it is because there are fewer of them on the streets.

Then you must consider that selections are much better now than they will be later on. You know the choicest coats are always chosen first. That is only natural. Later on, you choose from depleted stocks and the best styles have been picked over. Then, too you really get better furs and more careful workmanship on original coats, than on those which the merchant fills in his stock with later in the season.

The little woman, who wears the "petite" size range, particularly should select her coat early. She is hard to fit and if she puts off buying too long, will probably have to select a regular sixteen or eighteen instead of a "petite" size and have it cut down and made over for her, which is always unsatisfactory.

So I would urge that you select your coat at once and get the full season's wear out of it. The Fashion's line is very complete and I am sure the very coat you want is awaiting you there.

Watch the prettier teeth that come when you combat the film

Here is a test which has brought to millions a new conception of clean teeth. Wherever you look you see the results. Teeth gleen as they never did before.

If you don't know this method, you should find it out. You owe that to yourself.

Film is dingy. You feel on your teeth a viscous film. No ordinary tooth paste effectively combats it. So much of it clings and stays, becomes discolored, and then forms dingy coats. That is how teeth lose their beauty.

Film also holds food substance, which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Gums bleed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Under old methods, these film-caused troubles became almost universal. So dental science sought and found two effective film combats. One disintegrates the film, the other removes it without harmful scouring.

Protect the Enamel. Pepsodent disintegrates the film, then removes it with an agent far softer than enamel. Never use a film combant which contains harsh grit.

Pepsodent. The New-Day Dentifrice. Now advised by leading dentists the world over.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS. Olive Roberts Barton.

MRS. 'POSSUM—HER HOUSE.

Away down near the ground was a doornell and Nick gave it a pull.

Pretty soon Nancy and Nick arrived in Dixie Land. They found themselves on an old plantation—right near a big buttonwood tree. Just as the Fairy Queen had directed.

Half way up the buttonwood tree was a little door and on the door was a card which said, "Misses 'Possum for House".

Away down near to the ground was a doornell and Nick gave it a pull. Instantly the door overhead opened and a voice called down, "Who's there?"

"We are," answered the Twins. "We've come to call!"

"It's easier for me to come down than it is for you to come up," called Misses 'Possum, "so just sit down till I gather up my family. I can't leave them alone very well, for Brobbin Coor's mighty fond of young 'possums and he lives over yonder in that tree."

Pretty soon she dropped right at their feet, but what was the Twins' amazement to see a creature almost hidden from sight by a dozen little 'possums sitting up in a straight row like majars, their funny tails curled tightly around hers to keep them from falling off.

"Get off, children, and behave your gannahs and make a how to the lady and gentleman," said Misses 'Possum, (To Be Continued.)

one removes it without harmful scouring. Able authorities proved these methods by many careful tests. Then a new-type tooth paste was created to apply them daily. The name is Pepsodent. Now careful people of some 50 nations employ it, largely by dental advice.

Other new effects. Pepsodent also multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. Also its starch digestant. Those are Nature's agents for combating acid and starch deposits. Every use of Pepsodent gives them manifold power.

So this creation has brought to millions new beauty, new cleanliness, new protection.

It will delight. Pepsodent will bring to you a delightful revelation. The results are quick and apparent.

As a fitting climax to a perfect evening, and to give the guests a thrill, there was a ghost parade in the shadows of the moonlight. SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

Now Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Washington, D. C.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation which a physician said I would have to have for a very bad case of female trouble. My system was all run-down for two years after my little girl was born. Then I read of your wonderful medicine and decided to try it. I could hardly drag one foot after the other, and after taking six bottles of the Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman. I now do all my housework, also washing and ironing, and do not know what real trouble is. My health is fine, and I weigh 140 pounds. When I started taking it I weighed 97 pounds. I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any one who is suffering from female trouble or is run-down. You may use this testimonial for I am only too glad to let suffering women know what the Vegetable Compound did for me."—Mrs. Ida Hewitt, 1629 Penna. Ave. S. E., Washington, D. C.

Such letters from women in every section of this country prove beyond question the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Jack watched the great excitement until the last of the animals had gone free and the last of the birds had taken to the air. Flip had also been startled when all of the animals and birds came to life, but he recovered in time to chase some of the birds as they flew away.

Loring Ranger offers a reward of one hundred thousand dollars for the return of his daughter, Hope, who has been abducted by a band of criminals called the "Combine." He received a letter from the abductors instructing him where to leave the money. Bonds are deposited according to instructions.

Hope is held in a sanitarium conducted by Dr. Bristow and she makes friends with Dr. Kelsey, another prisoner. Together they escape, but Hope is recaptured.

Kelsey plans with Juarez Charlie, adventurer and friend of Ranger, to send word of Hope's whereabouts to her father, Alderman Higgins, head of the "Combine," tells Bristow that Hope must be killed. Bristow goes to the girl and offers to help her escape.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
"At liberty. Quite safe. Still at the old house, for all I know. I have not seen him. I got all this from Morton, who has been in communication with him."

"My dear child," he took her hands again, and spoke with imperative tenderness, "won't you trust me? I am going to take you back to your home. But we must act quickly. You see that nurse's outfit?" He pointed to the bundle. "I want you to put it on at once. Try to look as much like Miss Copley as possible." He was borrowing Higgins' idea. "Fix your hair the same way. Then come out. I will be waiting for you."

The moment he was out of the room

she began to change into the garments

he had brought.

She had finished, and was just putting on her nurse's bonnet and cape, when he tapped again and entered.

"Good girl!" he said approvingly, and even in his haste admiringly. "The car will be waiting. Come."

They had turned to the door when it flew open, and Anita faced them. Darkly flaming, she slammed the door behind her and stood, her various glances darting from one to the other, to fasten at last on Bristow.

His anger was white hot, but he did his best to control it.

"Let me remind you, Miss Copley," he said severely, "that you should be on duty elsewhere. You'll take my orders now, and return to your post."

"Oh, indeed?" she flouted her sneers. "I wonder what the Alderman will have to say to that?"

He looked at her, a cat-like gleam in his narrowed eyes.

"I think the Alderman will probably have a good deal to say when he learns that it is you who are responsible for his plans going wild. I have discovered—drawing slightly to tantalize her—"I have just discovered just how Juarez Charlie got his tip that Miss Ranger was in this sanitarium."

"You have?" She tossed her head to cover a vague uneasiness aroused by his manner.

"Just that," he inclined his head slowly. "Through a small oversight, or shall we say, inexcusable carelessness—most likely from feminine motives of economy—a hat in which I understand a photograph of Miss Ranger was taken, was exchanged for another to be sent to you at this address—a direct clue not to be perverted or misinterpreted in any possible way."

Anita tottered and for an instant closed her eyes.

Her whole bearing and expression altered. With the hot iron of necessity she seemed to have smoothed out every wrinkle of passion. She stood before him, her superior, the respectful composed nurse.

"You're right, Dr. Bristow. I forgot myself. I apologize. But I don't believe you want me to go back on duty or even remain in the hospital under the circumstances."

"If you will pay me what you owe me," with a glance that Bristow rightly interpreted as meaning that she demanded a heavy stake, "I will leave at once."

His lip drew back showing the edge of his teeth.

"You are asking me to assist in your escape—the nurse who fooled me into believing Miss Ranger to be her sister, who has imposed this perhaps ineffaceable blot on my hospital?" He spoke with virtuous indignation.

She took all this as mere preamble. He was talking for effect, showing her the line he meant to follow and strengthening his position with the girl at the same time.

"I know, I know, Doctor. But you don't altogether understand. I have been a tool, an unwilling tool—a tool of Higgins."

"You can go down and get your week's salary from the cashier." He spoke with curt finality. "Further than that, I refuse to compromise with you."

The answer stunned her, overtaxed her carefully maintained repression.

"My week's salary? Doctor, I'll need money. It's too late to do anything in town, and I can't cash a check for sufficient amount in the village. You always keep from five to ten thousand here in the safe, and I must have it."

She waited. His face was like flint, his eyes stone cold. It frightened her, and she cast her reserve to the wind.

"You couldn't leave me here—with Higgins. For your own sake, you couldn't. He'll get off. He's got pull. But I—!" She folded her arms. "You don't dare."

"You will have a hard time implicating me in any of your criminal performances," he said laughingly. "The fact that as soon as I learned of Miss Ranger's identity, I took steps to return her to her parents, exonerates me."

She sought through her memory for some threat to hold over him.

"Kelsey!" she said suddenly. "It's not certain that he's drowned. Suppose he turns up?"

"Dr. Kelsey has turned up," he replied coolly. "He is alive and safe. I am happy to say, and I have been in communication with him. I owe the dear fellow all the amends I can make him. Another score against you, Miss Copley. I have you to thank for those doctored records that induced me to hold him here as a patient. One more reason," sternly, "why I cannot connive at your proposed getaway."

Kelsey alive, and on terms with Bristow! She was just defiance now.

"You'll sacrifice me? You'll trample me in the mud? You mean it? You really mean it?" she muttered.

"Come," Bristow said to Hope, and took her hand.

Anita stiffened. She flung her arms out across the door, barring the way.

"Move aside!" Bristow commanded. "There was a brief, sharp struggle between them. She felt herself giving way before his greater strength."

"Harvey!" She was sobbing. "You wouldn't do it! You wouldn't. Not after all we have been to each other."

He shut his teeth, and made another and more successful effort to pull her from the door. She thrust her hand in her pocket, and jerking out the hypodermic syringe she had brought for Hope, jabbed at him with it.

He threw himself sideways, and shifted his grip to catch her by the arms. She wrested the right one free, and reaching over his shoulder, struck wildly at the back of his neck.

Suddenly he crumpled, fell heavily against her, and slipped through her arms to the floor. By one chance out of a hundred, she had driven the needle into the base of his brain.

She was on her knees beside him, thrusting her hand through his waistcoat to his breast.

She had lifted his head on her other arm. Now, as she withdrew it, she saw a flick or two of blood on her starched, white sleeve. She looked from it to the hypodermic which had fallen to the floor, and understood.

CHAPTER XXVIII
DURING the struggle, Hope had shrunk back. Then at its appalling climax she stood motionless, living through a cycle in a second.

Hope's one idea now was flight. She started for the door.

The movement, light as it was, aroused Anita. She rose to her knees, and clutched the bunch of keys at her belt.

"You forget it's locked!" She looked at the girl with such burning hatred, such evil intent, that a chill ran down Hope's spine.

Anita, mad to batter her, trample her, mar the beauty which she believed had taken Bristow from her, made a rush, her hands crooked like claws to tear the girl's face. Hope caught her wrists and forced them down.

She bent herself to the task of holding the mad woman off to eluding her wild onslaughts, and slipping away from her crushing grasp, rather than to close with her and make it a test of relative strength.

They were near the bed, and Hope seeing this did not step aside, but took the nurse by surprise, cannonading into her with such force that Anita rocked, her heels shot out, and she fell backward across the mattress.

In a second Hope was on top of her, dragging her arms together, holding down Anita's wrists with one hand and tearing at the bedclothes with the other.

She managed to jerk the counterpane free, and with difficulty, for the woman struggled furiously, wound it around Anita's body, binding her arms. She began to scream, and Hope stuffed the end of the spread in her mouth. It was an effective gag.

She tore a sheet into strips, and with them securely tied Anita's hands and ankles. This accomplished, she stood up.

She was surprised to find herself suddenly cool and determined.

She bent over Anita and detached the keys from her belt. Then with rapid fingers she fastened up her fallen hair, picking up the bonnet which Anita had snatched from her head in the struggle, straightened it out and put it on.

Without a shudder she stooped and dragged Bristow's body from the door, found the right key and walked out, locking the door behind her and putting the key in her pocket.

A glance showed her that the corridor was empty, and she walked toward the stairs.

She was half-way down the stairs when a nurse came running up from the hall below. The woman stopped at the landing and waited for her.

Coolidge Takes

Choice Of Bears

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 23.—President Coolidge in addition to his other duties was called upon today to select one of two bears for presentation to the National Zoological Park.

The bears—grizzlies from Northern Mexico—were brought to the White House by R. B. Pearson, an old frontiersman who said he specializes in roping wild animals. Mr. Coolidge went to the front of the White House offices to choose his bear while the Oklahoma City Firemen's Band, which had just called on the Chief Executive, played a circus tune.

Young drew the money from the bank and placed it in a tin box carried by one of the men. After signing papers with a great flourish the men gave Young the tin box. On reaching home Young found that the box was filled with paper slips.

FOR THE GUMS

Beyond the Rim of the Horizon— a Host of Workers Serve You

WORKING under the flags of many nations, they gather the materials for a hundred or more products which are brought together under one emblem—the Certain-teed Label.

In India they have prepared the jute, in Portugal they have stripped the cork-bark, in Argentina they have grown the flax for the linseed oil in Certain-teed linoleum. For mellow-toned Certain-teed shingles and roofing, rags have been sorted all over Europe and the Near East—rugged Vermonters have crushed the slate and Mexican peons have worked to produce the asphalt. From every point of the compass ships of commerce are bringing oils and gums, destined to become Certain-teed paint and varnish of enduring quality.

From our Southland comes the cotton for Certain-teed oil-cloth, and from many Certain-teed mines, the gypsum for plaster and light, fireproof walls.

The great Certain-teed plants, located at points where manufacture is most economical, convert these materials into more than a hundred useful articles. These go into every corner of the globe to meet the need for Certain-teed products.

Many products, one overhead, one management, one sales force and an organization of skilled workers enable Certain-teed to produce "enduring quality at low cost." These five words express the benefits that may be yours if you insist on the Certain-teed Label when buying.

Taft To Address Kiwanians

Hon. Robert Taft, member of the house of representatives, from Hamilton county and author of the Taft tax bill, which will come before the voters for endorsement or rejection this fall, will be the guest of the Kiwanian club, Thursday noon at their weekly luncheon. The members of the club are asked to note the change in the time of meeting.

Mr. Taft had expected to be here on Wednesday, but owing to pressing engagements had to postpone his visit here until Thursday.

This, of course, will mean the Kiwanians will not meet on Wednesday of this week, but Thursday instead. The officers of the club are very desirous of a large attendance to hear Representative Taft, who will discuss taxation in its broadest sense and who, no doubt, will have a very interesting message.

Ham Wilkoff, who while employed as a brakeman, was killed at the Action tunnel.

Twenty-Four Years Ago

Colonel Thaddeus Bennett, one of the best known men among the prominent citizens of Greenup county, Ky., dropped dead at his home near Shultz, he was an Ohioan by birth and first saw the light of day at Harrisonville. He was almost 60 years old.

The Cincinnati ball team arrived in the city and took quarters at the Hotel Portsmouth. In answer to Paul Esselborn's invitation the ball tossers spent some time at the brewery partaking of what was offered in the way of refreshments.

Cincinnati defeated the Portsmouth football team at Cliffside Park by a score of 17 to 0. Marsh, A. Kinney, Reinhardt, Stone, C. Kinney, Plummer, R. Newman, Redman, Davidson, Coriell and Taylor composed the Portsmouth eleven.

A common pleas court jury awarded George M. Wilkoff the sum of $1,000 from the C. & V. Railroad Company for the death of his son, Wilson Wednesday, but owing to pressing engagements had to postpone his visit here until Thursday.

This, of course, will mean the Kiwanians will not meet on Wednesday of this week, but Thursday instead. Negro Captured In Crestline, Ohio

CHILLICOTHE, O., Oct. 23.—Crestline on the part of Deputy Sheriff Carey B. Shepard of Ross county resulted in the capture at Crestline, Ohio, of John Brown, colored, alias Will Jones, who, more than a week ago, at a party at the home of Ben Harris, Austin, Ohio, it is alleged, shot and killed William Davis, colored, following an argument.

Hit By Street Car; Dies

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Oct. 23.—George W. Zieck, Civil War veteran, died Monday from shock and the injuries sustained when he was struck by a street car. The accident occurred on Third street at Eighteenth street, shortly after 3 o'clock, and the aged man was immediately removed to the Chesapeake & Ohio hospital. He died there at 6:05 o'clock last night.

Sixteen-year-old Chillicothe Girl Elopes

CHILLICOTHE, O., Oct. 23.—Miss North High school all aged with ex-Major J. Richards, sixteen-year-old daughter of City Engineer and Mrs. A. R. Richards of 25 East Seventh street, was one of four youngsters to elope last week in a double elopement from Columbus, that has visiting friends in Columbus.

Business Conditions To Improve, Says Mr. Frick

Manager Adah Frick of the Chamber of Commerce, in a discussion yesterday of the great improvement in the business and industrial outlook, said:

Probably the most reliable information of any important character bearing on the constructive side of business is contained in reports coming in which refer to the renewed activity in the building line. Only a few weeks since, there were continued reports that the great volume of building contracts had been cancelled, due to both the high cost of labor and the price of materials entering therein.

This was true at the time; but we learn from authoritative sources that many of these building contracts have been reinstated. The reason for reinstatement was based on contracting parties that had given study to the situation carefully, concluded that there was very little hope of getting the building done any cheaper for the next years to come and it was, therefore, considered more expedient to go ahead with their plans, at once, rather than wait. In the mean time higher prices might prevail, particularly in labor part of construction.

Right along this line we notice particularly heavy purchases of brick and the production of cement is breaking all records, amounting to over 13,000,000 barrels for the month of September.

With building operations resumed we may expect a large order of structural steel and kindred materials for building supplies, and so long as building operations continue, we can not see any signs of a lack of confidence in the future. This confidence should be further borne out by the continued reports of extraordinary heavy traffic on the railways.

Mrs. Miller To Attend Republican Meet

Mrs. Harry Miller of this city, is one of the district representatives of Ohio Republican women who are expected to attend a meeting in Columbus, Wednesday.

At this meeting a program will be considered by which the new Republican women's organization in Ohio will assume a big part of the responsibility for carrying the Buckeye state for the G. O. P. ticket in next year's presidential campaign.

Representatives will attend the meeting from every Ohio congressional district and each will be asked to report on conditions in her particular county. Addresses will be made by Mrs. David Toul, of Youngstown, Republican chairman of Women's work in Ohio, and Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, of Warren, vice chairman of the Republican national executive committee, and Mrs. John G. Battelle, of Columbus, associate Republican national committeewoman for Ohio.

Many Thanks, Folks

RECORD WEEK WENT OVER THE TOP

We personally want to thank everyone who had anything to do with making Record Week a success.

First, the property owners who gave us reasonable prices on their property.
Second, the home buyer who by his judgment immediately snatched up these well selected bargains.

Third, the telephone girls who gave us such splendid service.

Last, but not least, the Portsmouth Daily Times force whose splendid co-operation enabled us to make this a grand success.

It will take us three or four days to check up the results of the sales made during this week, so watch for our report. The result will amaze you.

Our only handicap was the lack of certain kinds of property to sell.

WE STILL HAVE FIFTEEN CUSTOMERS, who will buy if we can find just what they want.

If you have property at reasonable prices, call this office at once.

Alleged Murderers Plead Not Guilty

WEST UNION, O., Oct. 23.—John Spiers, of near here, and Frank Moore and Frank Jenkins of Portsmouth, indicted on murder charges in connection with the Robert F. Morris murder mystery, pleaded "not guilty" when arraigned on the indictments yesterday before Judge Will P. Stevenson on the Common Pleas bench.

Each indictment has two counts in it, one charge, deliberate and premeditated murder, the other in attempting to perpetrate robbery.

Theodore K. Pank of Portsmouth, is defending Frank Moore. F. A. Shively of West Union, O., is defending John Spiers. Frank Jenkins claimed he had no money to defend himself and the court appointed A. Z. Blair of Portsmouth to represent him.

The decomposed body of Robert F. Morris was found on the banks of Brush Creek, June 16, 1923, by a party of fishermen. A few days later John Spiers was arrested by the authorities, suspicion being created against him by reason of driving a fine new Oakland car and having a large amount of money. He was arrested at Wilmington, Ohio, by Adams County officers and brought to West Union, Ohio, and lodged in the County Jail. Later he confessed to being a party to the killing and implicated Frank Moore and Frank Jenkins, who were arrested and brought to West Union where they have been confined in the County Jail.

The trials will probably be held within the next month.

In the third quarter Joe Rigney went in the backfield for the locals and succeeded in going over for a touchdown. The kick was blocked. Score: Portsmouth 7, Chillicothe 0.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 23.—(By The Associated Press)—The Orioles prolonged the Little World series by winning the seventh game from Kansas City at Oriole Park, Monday, 10 to 9. Five runs behind, when they came in for their final bats, the Blues flashed a thrilling five run rally, tying the score and knocking lefty Groves from the rubber. Tommy Thomas was rushed to the rescue and stopped the run making after allowing one hit.

The series now stands 4 for Kansas City and three for Baltimore. Score: Kansas City 100 020 015—9; 13; 0. Baltimore 002 023 111—10; 13; 3. Schupp, Zinn, Wilkinson and Skiff; Groves, Thomas and Styles.

Pays Tribute To Harding

MARION, O., October 23.—(By The Associated Press)—Tribute to the memory of the late President Harding was paid here today by David Lloyd George, the former British premier. Arriving from Indianapolis before breakfast, he went to the Harding tomb and placed a wreath on the flag-draped sarcophagus and then proceeded to White Oaks, the home of Brigadier-General Charles E. Sawyer, the late president's physician, to call upon Mrs. Harding.

Before going to the tomb, the former premier went to the Indian Memorial where it is planned to erect a mausoleum to the late president, and to the Harding home, where the famous front porch campaign was conducted. At the tomb he was met by a crowd of Marion citizens and accompanied by Dame Margaret and Miss Megan. Lloyd George passed through a line of troops to the sarcophagus within. The wreath, placed in the name of Lloyd George, Dame Margaret and Miss Megan, bore the inscription: "With deep respect from the citizens of the Old World on a visit to the New."

At White Oaks the three were with Mrs. Harding for fifteen minutes and upon leaving her the former first lady of the great erected members of the party cordially.

Mr. Lloyd George left for Cleveland at 9:00 o'clock.

Real Vaudeville At Eastland Theater

A splendid crowd witnessed the initial vaudeville bill at the Eastland last night and each of the three classy numbers was enthusiastically greeted.

"Styles and Smiles," an elegant revue with snappy songs and gorgeous costumes was the initial number.

Next came a bunch of fast and furious fun put over by Moore and Shy. This is the weightiest act you will likely see this season. Go and look 'em over and you'll get our point.

And you'll like Arthur Phillips, the merry entertainer.

The pictures feature Mary Carr in the Castard Cup.

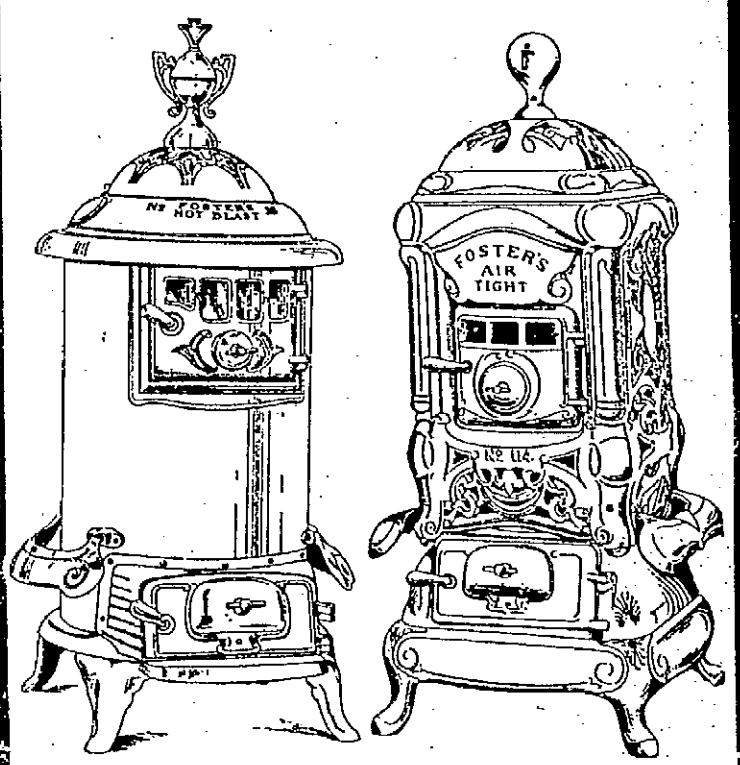

If the initial bill is a criterion of what is coming to the Eastland this season the vaudeville and photoplay lovers of the city are in for a good winter.

There will be an entire new bill Thursday.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the antibiotic for colic. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and colic's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and colic. Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative. No gripping is the "keynote" of these little, sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action. If you have a "dark brown mouth," bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation—you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime. Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c. Advertisement.

Pythians Enjoy Homecoming

A splendid program of entertainment thoroughly enjoyed by a crowd of about 200 Pythians and their families marked the homecoming session held last night by Magnolia Lodge, K. of P.

One feature of the evening was an address by Rev. G. Monroe Howerton, pastor of Central Presbyterian Church who is a Knight. He delivered a talk on "Pythianism and the Value of Fraternity." Rev. Howerton is always welcomed as a speaker in Magnolia hall. An illustrated lecture on "The Friendship of Damon and Pythias" was given by W. D. Hoss, with Samuel Miller showing the slides.

A humorous sketch by C. C. Bennett brought forth much laughter. A short musical program was featured by an organ solo by Herbert Kabb. County Deputy H. W. Ellis Elliott gave a short talk in which he spoke of the homecoming sessions to be held by other lodges throughout the county. He also called attention to the initiation dance to be given by the Pythian Sisters in Castle Hall Thursday night.

The next of the homecomings will be staged by Smith Lodge, Otway, next Saturday, October 27. Then will follow homecomings at South Webster Lodge, November 7, Sciotoville Lodge, November 9; Peerless Lodge, Portsmouth, November 13, and Ives Lodge, Minford, November 16, at all of which all members and their families will participate.

At each lodge, the meeting night next following the homecoming has been designated as "Knights' Special" night at which stag programs and pep meetings will be conducted. These meetings lead off with the "Knights' Special" night here of Magnolia Lodge, next Monday.

My Own and Zev May Meet at Latonia

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—(By the A. P.)—Zev, International 3-Year-old champion, as a result of its decisive victory Saturday over Papyrus, the English derby winner, will settle his rivalry with My Own for American honors in the Latonia championship at Latonia, November 3, unless pressing plans go astray. Samuel C. Hildreth, trainer of Zev, today announced that the Rancocas colt would be shipped to Latonia next week for the big stake, and as their Admiral Cary T. Grayson, owner of My Own, already had entered his unbeaten star, it seemed assured that these two thoroughbreds would settle their disputed question of supremacy.

Premacy. Should Mr. Own and Zev meet at Latonia, it would be a real test for both thoroughbreds for the championship is at a mile and three-quarters, two furlongs longer than the international race. My Own has proved his worth as a distance runner on more than one occasion this season and Zev disproved the contention of critics that he lacked staying qualities by demonstrating both unusual stamina as well as marvellous speed in conquering Papyrus. Matt Winn, general manager of Latonia track, announced today that he would increase the value of the championship purse to the winner from $21,000 to $50,000, provided Zev and My Own go to the post.

In such an event, Zev, if victorious, would come close to eclipsing the world's money winning record for a thoroughbred. This record, $220,000, now is held by Kasir, a French horse. By taking $50,000 of the $100,000 international purse, Zev increased his earnings to $251,000, setting a new American high mark, so that $50,000 more would put the Rancocas star's figure beyond $300,000 and within striking distance of the top.

Hildreth declared he would not consent to a special match between Zev and My Own, but he has considered it likely that the prospective meeting of the pair at Latonia would amount to the same thing. They considered it as likely that other entries in the championship might be scratched because of the central interest in the My Own-Zev contest.

With turf interest drawn to Zev and My Own, Papyrus, the gallant Britisher, drew but scant attention when he embarked this afternoon on the Aquitania due to sail tomorrow morning for England. With him will go Basil Jarvis, trainer, and Steve Donoghue, the famous little jockey.

Trainer Jarvis said Papyrus came out of the race in good condition.

Papyrus' Pilot Falls

NEW YORK, N. Y., October 23.—Steve Donoghue, famous British jockey, who rode Papyrus in the international race Saturday with Zev, accepted mounts in two of Monday's races at Empire City track, but could do no better than third either time. Donoghue got third place with Ladkin in the fourth race, won by H. T. Waters, and landed the small end of the purse with Doubletime in the sixth which was captured by Amor Patrie.

B. And O. Changes Rumored in Wellston

The Wellston Sentinel says:

A well-founded rumor, carrying with it more than the ordinary sand-house dope says, that the B. and O. is soon to issue an order retrograding the service on the Portsmouth branch to that of 20 years ago. The plan is said to be running of a train between Portsmouth and Hamilton two round trips per day, the train to be made up of one coach, which is to be a combination smoker and ladies' car, and a combination mail and baggage car—a two-car train to be pulled by one of the old 200 style of engines which are now used in yard service.

The equipment is now being made ready at the Chillicothe shops. It is said by those who should know, as to the Parkersburg service, the rumor says that trains may run between Chillicothe and possibly Dayton, and that point.

This plan of train service has been established on the Hillsboro division and the business men of that section have laid down the law to the management about it and if a respectable train is not restored on that route freight business will be given to the N. and W., they say.

At the local B. and O. offices it was stated that no information had been received about any proposed changes in the local time card.

Home Face Peeling Becomes Popular

No complexion treatment so discussed recently to have become so generally popular as the mercolized wax process. Evidently the reason is that this method actually gets rid of a bad complexion, which can hardly be said of any other. No temporarily hide or bleach the skin, but with cosmetics cannot compare with the effect of literally regenerating the skin itself. Mercolized wax, a fine, white, granular substance, is applied in the form of a thin film, which, as it dries, draws out all the impurities from the pores of the skin. This wax, which you can get at your druggists, is applied at night, and washed off morning—advertisement.

B. And O. Changes Rumored in Wellston

The Wellston Sentinel says:

A well-founded rumor, carrying with it more than the ordinary sand-house dope says, that the B. and O. is soon to issue an order retrograding the service on the Portsmouth branch to that of 20 years ago. The plan is said to be running of a train between Portsmouth and Hamilton two round trips per day, the train to be made up of one coach, which is to be a combination smoker and ladies' car, and a combination mail and baggage car—a two-car train to be pulled by one of the old 200 style of engines which are now used in yard service.

The equipment is now being made ready at the Chillicothe shops. It is said by those who should know, as to the Parkersburg service, the rumor says that trains may run between Chillicothe and possibly Dayton, and that point.

This plan of train service has been established on the Hillsboro division and the business men of that section have laid down the law to the management about it and if a respectable train is not restored on that route freight business will be given to the N. and W., they say.

At the local B. and O. offices it was stated that no information had been received about any proposed changes in the local time card.

Home Face Peeling Becomes Popular

No complexion treatment so discussed recently to have become so generally popular as the mercolized wax process. Evidently the reason is that this method actually gets rid of a bad complexion, which can hardly be said of any other. No temporarily hide or bleach the skin, but with cosmetics cannot compare with the effect of literally regenerating the skin itself. Mercolized wax, a fine, white, granular substance, is applied in the form of a thin film, which, as it dries, draws out all the impurities from the pores of the skin. This wax, which you can get at your druggists, is applied at night, and washed off morning—advertisement.

Andersons' $18,000.00 Silk Week; The Opportunity Of The Season

It's this week; it's right now that Andersons' Annual October Silk Week holds sway. Thousands of yards of beautiful Silks featured, displayed and exploited. Thousands of dollars worth of charming Silk Textiles await your choosing. Many of them reveal special pricings that you will not soon see again. The Japanese holocaust has left its indelible stamp upon the Silk market of the world and the result is that Silk prices are climbing. Where Silks have been purchased before this advance, that means practically the entire stock, there are no advances, while on the other hand, in spite of advances in the Silk market, Andersons' prices in a number of instances show actual reductions. Let this Silk Week point the way to sure economies as well as a Fashion Review of Textiles that will mean a Fashion education in Silken Fabrics for the season.

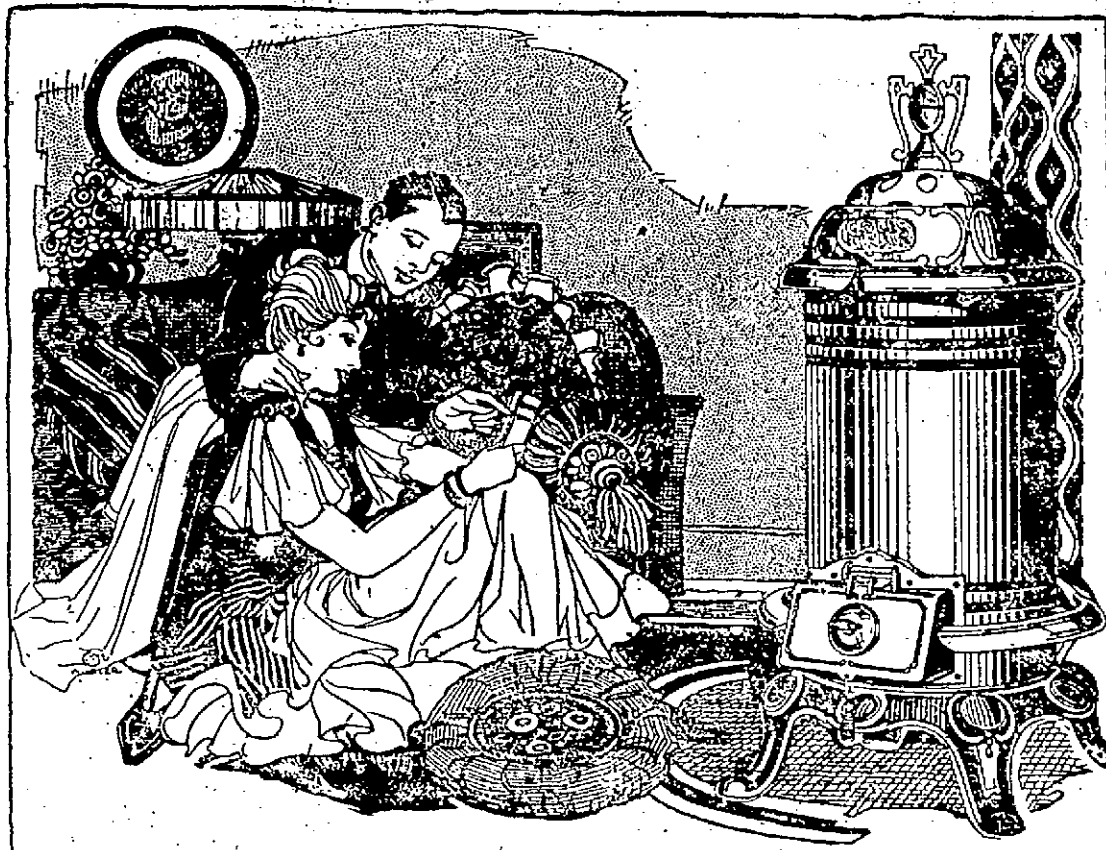

Silks That Reveal The Artistry Of The Foremost Designers And Many Of Them At Special Prices

- BARONET SATIN, 39 inches wide, in Black, Navy and Brown, as well as sport colors, at the special price of $1.95.

- BROCADED CREPE, 40 inches wide, one of the good selling silks for Fall, in two qualities, at $4.00 and $4.50.
- MOIRE SILK, 36 inches wide, a silk that has grown suddenly popular both for dresses and for use with Canton Crepe, priced at $3.50 and $4.50.
- One lot of 36 inch Spanish Lace, at the special price of $1.69 during Silk Week.
- SILK DUVETYN, 36 inches wide, in a limited color range, at $2.75 a yard.

- LINING SILKS, 36 inches wide, that are also used for Kimono purposes, at $1.39 during Silk Week. Other fancy linings at $1.75.
- PRINTED CREPE DE CHINE, Canton Crepes and Rashauna Crepe, 40 inches wide, ranging in price from $2.50 to $4.50 a yard. This is one of the most popular silk lines of the season. They are used for waists, jackets and in combination dresses. The designs show Egyptian and Chinese influences.
- ALTYME KNITTED CREPE, 36 inches wide, in sport colors and afternoon shades that are wanted, at the special price of $1.59.
- LINCEHL, 36 inches wide, a new crepe that is proving very popular as it has a beautiful finish and good weight for suits and dresses. Priced at $3.75 a yard.
- VELLEGANTE, 36 inches wide, a new knitted crepe with a velvet finish, a beautiful lustrous silk that fashions into handsome dresses. Our special price during Silk Week, $3.98.

- SATIN CREPE, 40 inches wide, in three qualities, $3.50, $4 and $4.50. This is one of the big selling silk fabrics of the season and we recommend all of these qualities.
- SILK AND WOOL CANTON CREPE, 36 inches wide, in the wanted colors at $1.95.
- JAP PONGEE, 33 inches wide, in the natural color. In spite of an increase in raw silk we will sell this much wanted silk at 95c during Silk Week.

Auto Plunges Into Canal Bed; Woman Hurt

Mrs. Martha Williams, of 846 Fourth street, sustained a slight cut on her forehead and a Ford owned by Charles Williams, of the same address, was damaged about four o'clock Monday afternoon when the machine left the paved road and plunged into the old canal bed near the Cole farm on the West Side. Mrs. Charles Williams was just learning to drive and when she saw a machine speeding towards her down the center of the road she became frightened and drove the machine too far to the right side of the road. Fortunately the car did not turn over. The sudden stop at the bottom of the bank caused the top to be torn off. A radius rail was also bent.

Cox Says Republicans To Blame For European Muddle

PADUCAH, Ky., Oct. 23.—The Republican administration at Washington is responsible for the situation in the Ruhr and for that reason responsible for the broken economic condition of Europe, which has ruined American markets, James M. Cox, former governor of Ohio and Democratic candidate for the presidency in 1920, said in a speech last night to the largest audience that has gathered here to hear any speaker during the present political campaign.

In pointing out the importance of the coming state election Kentucky to the national party, the speaker said that state elections were the best way the American people had of expressing their dissatisfaction with national conditions and that already there had been sporadic evidence of discontent in Minnesota and administration for the condition of Europe, because political leaders in Germany, France and England had told him during his tour of Europe last summer that they would be willing to accept any decision of the reparations commission made by an American commission appointed to consider the economic state of Germany. Instead, he said, the American representative on the reparations commission, "sat and neither thought or spoke."

He said that in his opinion the Ruhr situation was responsible for the disintegration of Germany for the reestablishment of the Weimar Republic and the spread of a "hunger revolution" which would put Germany beyond any hope of recovery.

A. BRUNNER & SONS
909-911 Gallia Street

DENVER, COLO., October 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Mrs. Georgia Bryan, 30, wife of W. S. Bryan, assistant fire chief of Denver, and A. J. Sherie, 50, were found slain in the front yard of the Sherie home near Morrisville, Colo. today.

Mrs. Bryan and Sherie were only partly clothed. Blood led from a bedroom in the front part of the house. Police believe the shooting probably took place in the bedroom, the victims dragging themselves in the front yard in the hope of getting aid. A rifle laid across the bed. Furnishings of the bedroom were bespattered with blood.

The house is on the Golden Road, about 15 miles from Denver. Sherie, about whom little is known, rented it several months ago and apparently had been living there since.

Chief Bryan, searching for his wife, who he said was not at their home last night, arrived at the scene shortly after the discovery of the bodies.

A. H. Mitchell, a plumber, of Denver, walked into police headquarters accompanied by a minister, at noon, and, according to the police, confessed to the double murder. Jealousy was given as the motive, according to the police.

According to the police, Mitchell, with Sherie and Mrs. Bryan, went on a "party" last evening. Returning to the Sherie place, more liquor was obtained. Mitchell is said to have objected to attentions paid Mrs. Bryan by Sherie. They also say Mitchell declared he could not stand by and see Mrs. Bryan love another man.

According to the police, the shooting started in the bedroom. The assailant apparently first shot Sherie and the woman once. They struggled from the bedroom, police say. He again fired a shot at the woman. Later as Sherie struggled with his woman, according to the police, they believe he was again fired upon by the slayer.

Saturday evening all power was off for a few minutes. The domestic supply of juice was soon turned on but the street lights were out for several hours. Sunday morning at 3 o'clock the electrical supply for the western section of the city was cut off again, the cause of the trouble being finally located in a big transformer at the substation. After two hours hard work, repairs were made. Shortly after ten o'clock Sunday evening the power was off again, being turned off this time so that the repair work could be completed.

THE SUNDAY SLAUGHTER

THE fatalities from the general operation of automobiles on Sunday have become so great that one great news association makes a practice of summarizing them.

From this it is learned that sixteen persons were killed in Ohio and adjacent states the first day of the week. This number is not the total for the whole country, but it is shocking enough in itself.

The injunction laid is greater care and caution on the part of all. While most of the accidents were not the result of recklessness, all, with one exception, grew out of the fatal propensity that seems of inherent inspiration from the automobile to hurry ahead. For instance, in one case, one machine, containing seven occupants was hit by an interurban car and three killed and three probably fatally injured. This could have been avoided had the driver approached the track with his machine under perfect control. In another, a driver, turning into a filling station, ran into two women and killed one of them. He claimed he was blinded by the lights of other machines. Sufficient and suggestive reason why he should have had his car creeping along so he could stop it in a foot or two. Watch how often you see a machine cross the sidewalk to a filling station going twenty and twenty-five miles an hour.

It was much the same way in all the other accidents, there may have been no particular recklessness, but there was an absence of what should be the first principle of all automobile driving, safety first.

A LOCAL MAKESHIFT

THE Cincinnati Enquirer advises voters to favor the adoption of the Taft bill.

Its argument is Cincinnati is living beyond its income, therefore it must have more revenue. The Taft measure is a stop-gap, a rather crude composition between differences in the legislature and can be only a short makeshift, at best, but it will increase the flow of taxes in Cincinnati and is necessary as a temporary expedient.

Further than that the Enquirer sets up that the expenses of government in cities has kept pace with the high cost of living and the revenue of ten years ago, will not meet the municipal necessities of today.

This argument appears localized and damning with faint praise. The strongest point in it is that governmental expenses have kept step with all other advances. It is, however, not conclusive generally, not even in Cincinnati, we dare say. Valuations of property, wherever there was an opportunity have been enormously increased, automobile licenses, inheritance imposts, excise levies of sundry and various sorts have been laid, until the actual amount paid by the people for the support of government has doubled, tripled and increased beyond all reason until the time is come when they must not only set their faces against even temporary increase, but demand the tax-spenders shall spend less.

The demand of the Enquirer that there shall be a general revaluation of real estate is timely. Because this has not been done for many years one of the greatest injustices in taxation is being wrought. Scioto, along with 26 other counties, appraised its realty. Sixty-one did not. The condition is that the 27 counties are paying far more taxes, relatively speaking than is their proportion, because with them, in every instance the valuation of realty was vastly increased.

The Times does not advise the voters of Scioto county to cast their ballots against the Taft bill, because this county is already paying more than its share of taxes but because the measure is totally vicious in itself. The remedy for municipal extravagance is not by voting more taxes upon all the state, but to compel cities to live within their income, just as Portsmouth is doing.

When rogues fall out honest men get their dues. Perhaps, the best hope for that enforcement we hear so much about lies in the fact that the rum runners along the New York main have fallen out among themselves and are right merrily robbing and shooting each other.

They call it the English horse. As a matter of fact Papyrus was born in Ireland and if you will transpose the name of its owner, Ben Irish, you have just what he is and he's proud of it, too, as becomes.

Best thing we know about Coolidge is that he didn't let Vice and the rest of the little governors say a word.

Since when did the governors of great states become strapons of little provinces that they have to go to Washington to receive orders from the Ruler of All?

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. McINTIRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—This paen, just as they do in front of the Main of praise is for, just now, the most Street drug store.

It is Joe Cook who came out of vanderbilt to be a Broadway sensation. He is the highest exponent of "hokum" the town has ever seen and the greatest laugh getter.

It is easy for the man raised in a small town to see at once that Joe Cook arrived to fame by the way of the back-yard pin show. In fact, his performance is a glorified presentation of the circus that hundreds of boys are giving in the burnd each year.

He has a winning boyishness—hundreds of young men who look like him are soda water clerks, undertaker's assistants and delivery wagon drivers in small towns. He walks the tight wire, dances, plays the Jew's harp, the saxophone, juggles Indian clubs and mimes a rolling ball under his feet.

All of these things he does just passably well. It is his chatter and absurd contrasts that give to his performance the unfathomable profundity. His costume may be ear muffs, a straw hat, fur overcoat, sandaled sockless feet and an umbrella.

These are exaggerations that burlesque exploited for years, but it remained for this small town boy to lift them into the realms of true art. Outside of vanderbilt audiences, nobody knew of Joe Cook a year ago. Today he is as much of an institution as Weber and Fields.

His funniest moment to me is when he plays a saxophone solo. There is a dumb assistant who is supposed to hit the triangle at certain points in the solo. The assistant is in a chair. Over him is rigged up a pile driver, the weight being suspended directly over his head.

The contraption is as ridiculous as one of Goldberg's cartoon functions. When the time comes for the assistant to tap the triangle, Cook steps on a lever, the mechanics of the contraption go into action and the huge weight, thumps the assistant on the head. Ting! goes the triangle, with no show of emotion. Nothing Cook does has any point. His imitation of the three Hawaiians winds up, after a long tale that has nothing to do with the matter, with the announcement that because of the incidents he relates he cannot, tonight imitate three Hawaiians. He promises much and does little and this delights New York.

These who think of New York as all skyscrapers, honking motors and rushing crowds might be disillusioned now and then. It is seven o'clock in the evening as I write. From my window I can see a flock of pigeons in the street. A man is leading a cow to the Grand Central. On a roof a woman is sprinkling the garden with a bag of gray. And in front of a chain cigar store is a group of young idlers skylarking.

Doc Koko's KOLUM

In a Friendly Sort of Way
When a man ain't got a cent, an' he's feeling kind o' blue.

An' the clouds hang dark an' heavy an' won't let the sunshine through. It's a great thing, O, my brethren, for a father just to say, "You don't know what to say. When his hand is on your shoulder in a friendly sort o' way."

It makes a man feel curious, it makes the tear drops start. An' you sort o' feel a flutter in the region of the heart. You can't look up an' meet his eye. You don't know what to say. When his hand is on your shoulder in a friendly sort o' way.

Hard to Please

Mrs. Beapote was giggling to herself as she read the paper. "Can't you stop that giggling," demanded Mr. Beapote. "How can I get my accounts mended?" She pressed a mute silence. "There you go," snarled Mr. Beapote. "Smile, consumm it!"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Quite Marvelous

A profiteer was bragging about his newly acquired motor car. He ended his eulogy by declaring: "It runs so smoothly that you can't feel it; so quietly that you can't hear it; it has such perfect ignition that you can't smell it; and as for speed, why, my boy, you can't see it!" "Bless my soul," he exclaimed anxiously, "how do you know the car is there at all?"—Montreal Gazette.

Too Many

A party dining at a leading hotel at a time when all of the newspapers were chronicling a visit of Secretary Hughes to Chicago, were very much interested in a bewhiskered personage on the other side of the room. "Fardon me," said one of them, stopping a passing waiter, "but isn't that Hughes over there?" "I don't know," replied the waiter. "You know, so many people come here."—Kansas City Star.

BERTON BRADLEY'S DAILY POEM

Supernal Dubbs

(By Berton Bradley)
THERE'S just a little rumorm in hearing, through a medium. What spectators have to say: Their efforts conversational are hardly educational. They frequently display,

For all their ghostly mystery, An ignorance of history. And other things like that Which, when they make it audible, Is very far from laudable. In fact, it's pretty flat.

THESE spirits so ethereal Appear to lack material. But thoughts that stir the mind: Their talk so lacks in clarity. What we assume, in charity, They left their brains behind.

WHEN Jesse James and Pharoah Repeat the same scenario About the spirit throng, When speech of Grant or Bonaparte Is securely to be known apart. There must be something wrong!

SO, though it's rather rude in us, These speeches platitudinous Or which the spirits null. Convince us, as they mander on, The higher plane they wander on Must be exceedingly dull! (Copyright, 1923, N.E.A. Service, Inc.)
